

Management Development in the Construction Industry

The face of construction has changed substantially in recent years and will continue to do so as clients' demands and requirements become more sophisticated and the industry is faced with the challenge of improving the service it provides. Enhanced management will be a crucial element in meeting these challenges; and effective training and development is a prerequisite to create the vision, abilities and skills to match future demands. Completely updated, this is the second edition of an essential management tool which will enable readers to assess and develop their management skills.
