The Laryngoscope

The Laryngoscope has been the leading source of information on advances in the diagnosis and treatment of head and neck disorders since 1896. The Laryngoscope is the first choice among otolaryngologists for publication of their important findings and techniques. Each monthly issue of The Laryngoscope features peer-reviewed medical, clinical, and research contributions in general otolaryngology, allergy/rhinology, otology/neurotology, laryngology/bronchoesophagology, head and neck surgery, sleep medicine, pediatric otolaryngology, facial plastics and reconstructive surgery, oncology, and communicative disorders. Contributions include papers and posters presented at the Annual and Section Meetings of the Triological Society, as well as independent papers, "How I Do It", "Triological Best Practice" articles, and contemporary reviews. Theses authored by the Triological Society's new Fellows as well as papers presented at meetings of the American Laryngological Association are published in The Laryngoscope. The Laryngoscope is owned by the American Laryngological Rhinological and Otological Society, Inc. aka The Triological Society, and is the official journal of the Society, The American Laryngological Association, and the American Broncho-Esophagological Association. The Journal is published by Wiley.
