

Operations Research

Operations Research, published bimonthly, serves the entire operations research (OR) community, including practitioners, researchers, educators, and students. Operations Research, as the flagship journal of the profession, strives to publish results that are truly insightful. Each issue offers a balance of well-written articles that span the wide array of creative activities in OR. Areas of concentration include computing and decision technologies, decision analysis, environment and energy, financial engineering, manufacturing and supply chain operations, marketing science, military and homeland security, optimization, policy modeling and public sector OR, revenue management, stochastic models, telecommunications and networking, and transportation.
