

Uniform Law Review

The Uniform Law Review (Revue de droit uniforme) is a quarterly, bilingual journal offering a unique instrument for reflection and the provision of information on the political and technical problems of the harmonisation of law world-over, with an ample part being reserved for the work carried out in UNIDROIT. The Review comprises a collection of material on the continuing progress achieved in the field of the unification of law, in particular: periodical reports on the progress realised in this field by international and regional organisations; studies carried out with a view to the unification of law; texts of uniform laws, conventions and other instruments adopted at international level; an updated bibliography on the subject; and a regular selection of case law of various countries illustrating their application of uniform law texts. The Review is interested in contributions for some of its other sections including: recent case law decisions and arbitral awards concerning uniform law conventions; book reviews; notices; and announcements of forthcoming congresses, colloquia, research and training opportunities.
